

New Album: 'Liquid Sunshine' by ORGANICS, Ireland's foremost Hammond organ jazz trio. Release Date: 26th September 2008

'Liquid Sunshine' to be released on the 26th September, 2008 is the second album from Irish Hammond organ trio ORGANICS (Justin Carroll - Hammond Organ, Kevin Brady - Drums and John Moriarty - Guitar). With an internationally acclaimed debut album (New Light, 2005) under their belts ("One of the finest debut recordings" Record Collector Magazine 2005) ORGANICS recorded their second album with one of Germany's leading jazz sound engineers and it will be released through LRP Records.

Featuring a balance of original compositions by all three members, 'Liquid Sunshine' also includes some gems of the engaging and interesting arrangements this group has come to be known by, such as the classic Duke Ellington tune 'Azure', and 'Songs of Love', more commonly known as the theme tune to the popular TV series 'Father Ted', written by Neil Hannon, front man with the orchestral pop group The Divine Comedy.

Organics, Ireland's foremost Hammond organ jazz trio, have been performing and composing professionally since 1997. They have toured Ireland extensively and are regulars at the major music festivals in Dublin, Galway, Waterford, Belfast. Since 2001, Organics have opened for leading International groups such as Gil Scott-Heron in Vicar Street, Dublin, Swedish piano trio E.S.T, the legendary Herbie Hancock's 'Headhunters' and electronic pioneer Bugge Wesseltoft at The 2005 Bud Rising Festival. The trio made their debut performance at the Glasgow International Jazz Festival in 2007. A regular feature of the Cork Jazz Festival since 1997, including performing as the house band for the jam session three years running, they were also critically acclaimed for their performance with Saxophonist Bobby Watson (Art Blakey + The Jazz Messengers) at the 2004 Cork Jazz festival.

One of the most exciting sounds to emerge from the Irish jazz scene, Organics have established a musical expression uniquely their own. The group features three of the country's brightest jazz musicians, Justin Carroll (Hammond Organ), John Moriarty (Guitar) and Kevin Brady (Drums).

The album will be available from www.organicsmusic.com, Tower Records Dublin, iTunes music store and all U.K. record stores in early October.

For further information, contact: John – 0879736850, info@organicsmusic.com

See below for details of their upcoming concerts:

Wed. 24th September

Dolan's Warehouse, Dock Road, Limerick

presented by the Limerick Jazz Society

Doors: 8:30pm

Admission: €13.00

Limerick

info@dolanspub.com

www.dolanspub.com

Thurs. 25th September

The Triskel Arts Centre, Cork

Doors: 8:00pm

Admission: €18/conc.€16

info@triskelart.com

www.triskelart.com

Friday 26th September

JJ Smyth's, 12 Aungier Street, Dublin 2

official album launch

Doors 9:30pm

Admission: €10.00

www.jjsmyths.com